

ST GEORGE church is situated outside Pedoulas to the north. It is a small cemetery church that can be dated to the 13th or early 14th century. Originating in this church is a section of the 13th century main altar door, a wonderful icon of Saint George slaying the dragon painted in the early 14th century and another icon of Saint George in the Diasoritis style, which is the work of the 17th century icon painter Pavlos, all exhibited in the Pedoulas Byzantine Museum. The chapel celebrates on 23 April and 3 November.
